

Helping People to Think Biblically and Theologically

Rutherford House

17th Edinburgh Dogmatics Conference

Reformation Theology

Call for Short Papers

Rutherford House invites short paper proposals for the Edinburgh Dogmatics Conference, to be held 29-31 August on the theme of "Reformation Theology: Maintenance or Revision?".

The Dogmatics Conference, established in 1983 and held every other year, attracts reputable scholars from around the world. This year we have John McLean, Tony Lane, Rob Norris, John Barclay, Cindy Brown, Bruce McCormack, Henri Blocher and Kin Yip Louie. It will be held in Palmerston Place Church, Edinburgh, Scotland.

In addition to a significant group of plenary speakers, we have provided space for similar papers, germane to this year's theme, of 20 – 25 minutes each, followed by a 20 minute discussion. These papers are open both to recognized scholars and to postgraduate students.

Proposals for papers should be submitted in an abstract of 500 words or less and sent electronically to info@rutherfordhouse.org.uk. Please be sure to include all contact information with your proposal. The deadline for submission is 24 April 2017.

Rutherford House

10 Palmerston Place
Edinburgh
EH12 5AA

Phone: 0131 220 1621

Email: info@rutherfordhouse.org.uk

Website: www.rutherfordhouse.co.uk